LESS IS MORE

In accordance with our DNA, at Excess we believe that the best way to be on the water, for us and our planet, is under sail! That's exactly why we want to design cruising catamarans with larger sail plans and reduced weight, capable of sailing under all conditions.

We look for simple and smart solutions in order to offer the necessary comfort and functions on board, while reducing our environmental impact.

On the Excess 14, our primary coring material is PET foam, which is made from 100% recycled bottles

The pulse line pack allows to reduce the use of the engines and extends the possibility of sailing even with a light breeze

A close-up photograph of natural fibers, likely hemp, showing their texture and color. The fibers are light brown and appear to be part of a larger material.

We are progressively introducing natural fibers, such as hemp, in the built process of our boats. In 2023, Groupe Beneteau mould over 30.000 GRP parts using bio-sourced resins with natural core materials

In 2023, 38% of the resin used to build our catamarans are bio sourced.
